

ROBESON COMMUNITY COLLEGE
LAW ENFORCEMENT TRAINING DIVISION
PRESENTS:

RURAL SURVEILLANCE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT

The Rural Surveillance for Law Enforcement Course is designed to teach officers how to insert, establish, and conduct an observation post from various rural hide sites, for the purpose of gathering useful data to be used as evidence and intelligence. The Course covers issues for every part of conducting a successful rural surveillance operation from the planning, briefing, insertion, camouflage, construction of multiple levels of hides, and building a Ghili Suit, movement, navigation, to associated legal issues. Graduation will require stealth insertion and extraction from location, with satisfactory photos, or video, taken during a successful surveillance scenario.
